

Everything is ready for the “Viareggio Carnival Cup”

This event will be of a remarkable interest at least for two reasons. The first is the place where it takes place, Viareggio, and the second is the dates which have been chosen, the 20th and 21st of February, which is also when the Viareggio Carnival Parade takes place.

The “Beach Cross European Cup” is an experimental European race, therefore it is not an official round of the International Championship on sand, but it is a UEM’s project (in collaboration with FX Action) which could lead to the birth of a real European Championship of this speciality in 2011.

The very first race of the “Beach Cross Europe Cup” will take place in Italy, a country which already hosts an exceedingly successful championship such as the “Supermarecross” (Superseacross). Consequently, FX Action wants to enhance and develop a formula that has already been welcomed by the UEM which immediately supported the initiative. “Organising such an event makes me extremely happy and determined. This unique kind of race is a great chance for the on sand motocross to show how spectacular this speciality is, and I do hope that the best international riders will take part in it. My special thanks go to the UEM for giving me the opportunity of organising this event as a European race, but I have also to thank the Viareggio City Council and the Viareggio Carnival Foundation for including this event in such a special week-end.” Roberto Bianchini from FX Action said.
